[XXth Year.] THURSDAY, November 8, 1764. [No. 1018.]

From the PENNSYLVANIA GAZETTE.

PHILADELPHIA, November 1.

ON Wednesday, the 24th Inſtant, ISAAC NORRIS, Eſq; Speaker of the Aſſembly, having ſignified to the Houſe his Inability to attend that Service, from the preſent State of his Health, the Houſe unanimouſly choſe JOSEPH FOX, Eſq; Speaker in his Stead.

And on Friday laſt the Houſe adjourned to the 7th of January, having appointed BENJAMIN FRANKLIN, Eſq; to embark immediately for Great-Britain, to join with, and aſſiſt, the preſent Agent in tranſacting the Affairs of this Province, for the enſuing Year.

From the PENNSYLVANIA JOURNAL.

Mr. BRADFORD,

The Subſcribers, at the Cloſe of the late Debate in Aſſembly, concerning the ſending Mr. Franklin to England as an Aſſiſtant to our Agent there, having offered a PROTEST againſt that Meaſure, which was refuſed to be entered on the Minutes, it is now thought proper to take this Method, of laying before the Public the Reaſons on which their Diſſent was founded.

WE whoſe Names are hereunto ſubſcribed, do object and Proteſt againſt the Appointment of the Perſon propoſed as an Agent of this Province, for the following Reaſons.

Firſt. Becauſe we believe him to be the Chief Author of the Meaſures purſued by the late Aſſembly, which have occaſioned ſuch Uneaſineſs and Diſtraction among the good People of this Province.

Secondly. Becauſe we believe his fixed enmity to the Proprietors will preclude all Accommodation of our Diſputes with them, even on juſt and reaſonable Terms;——So that for theſe two Reaſons, we are filled with the moſt affecting Apprehenſions, that the Petitions lately tranſmitted to England, will be made uſe of to produce a Change of our Government, contrary to the Intention of the Petitioners; the greateſt part of whom, we are perſuaded, only deſigned thereby to obtain a Compliance with ſome equitable Demands.——And thus, by ſuch an Appointment, we, and a vaſt Number of our moſt worthy Conſtituents, are deprived of all Hopes of ever ſeeing an End put to the fatal Diſſentions of our Country; it being our firm Opinion, that any further Proſecution of the Meaſures for a Change of our Government at this Time, will lay the Foundations of unceaſing Feuds, and all the Miſeries of Confuſion, among the People we repreſent, and their Poſterity.——This ſtep gives us the more lively Affliction, as it is taken at the very Moment, when we are informed by a Member of this Houſe, that the Governor has aſſured him of his having received Inſtructions from the Proprietors, on their hearing of our late Diſpute, to give his Aſſent to the Taxation of their Eſtates in the ſame manner that the Eſtates of other Perſons are to be taxed, and alſo to confirm, for the Public uſe, the ſeveral Squares, formerly claimed by the City;——On which Subjects, we make no doubt, the Governor would have ſent a Meſſage to the Houſe, if this had been the uſual Time of doing Buſineſs, and he had not been neceſſarily abſent to meet the Aſſembly of the Lower Counties.——And therefore we cannot but anxiouſly regret, that, at a Time when the Proprietors have ſhewn ſuch a Diſpoſition, this Houſe ſhould not endeavour to cultivate the ſame, and obtain from them every reaſonable Demand that can be made on the part of the People; in vigorouſly inſiſting on which, we would moſt earneſtly unite with the reſt of this Houſe.

Thirdly. Becauſe the Gentleman propoſed, as we are informed, is very unfavourably thought of by ſeveral of his Majeſty's Miniſters; and we are humbly of Opinion, that it will be diſreſpectful to our moſt gracious Sovereign, and diſadvantageous to ourſelves and our conſtituents, to employ ſuch a Perſon as our Agent.

Fourthly. Becauſe the Propoſal of the Perſon mentioned, is ſo extremely diſagreeable to a very great Number of the moſt ſerious and reputable Inhabitants of this Province of all Denominations and Societies, (one Proof of which is, his having been rejected, both by this City and County at the laſt Election, though he had repreſented the former in Aſſembly for 14 Years) that we are convinced no Meaſure this Houſe can adopt, will tend ſo much to inflame the Reſentments and imbitter the Diviſions of the good People of this Province, as his Appointment to be our Agent.——And we cannot but ſincerely lament, that the Peace and Happineſs of Pennſylvania ſhould be ſacrificed for the Promotion of a Man, who cannot be advanced but by the Convulſions of his Country.

Fifthly. Becauſe the unneceſſary haſte with which this Houſe has acted in proceeding to this Appointment (without making a ſmall Adjournment, tho' requeſted by many Members, to conſult our Conſtituents on the Matters to be decided; and) even before their Speaker has been preſented to the King's Repreſentative, tho' we are informed that the Governor will be in Town the Beginning of next Week;——may ſubject us to the Cenſures and very heavy Diſpleaſure of our moſt gracious Sovereign and his Miniſters.

Sixthly. Becauſe the Gentleman propoſed, has heretofore ventured, contrary to an Act of Aſſembly, to place the Public Money in the Stocks, whereby this Province ſuffered a loſs of £. 6000; and that ſum added to £. 5000 granted for his Expences, makes the whole Coſt of his former Voyage to England, amount to ELEVEN THOUSAND POUNDS; which expenſive kind of Agency we do not chuſe to imitate, and burden the Public with unneceſſary loads of Debt. For theſe and other Reaſons we ſhould think ourſelves guilty of betraying the Rights of Pennſylvania, if we ſhould preſumptuouſly commit them to the Diſcretion of a Man, againſt whom ſo many and juſt Objections preſent themſelves.

Laſtly. We being extremely deſirous to avert the Miſchiefs apprehended from the intended Appointment, and as much as in us lies to promote Peace and Unanimity among us and our Conſtituents, do humbly propoſe to the Houſe; that if they will agree regularly to appoint any † Gentleman of Integrity, Abilities, and Knowledge in England, to aſſiſt Mr. Jackſon as our Agent, under a Reſtriction not to preſent the Petitions for a Change of our Government, or any of them, to the King or his Miniſters, unleſs an expreſs Order for that Purpoſe be hereafter given by the Aſſembly of this Province; we will not give it any Oppoſition: But if ſuch an Appointment ſhould be made we muſt inſiſt (as we cannot think it a neceſſary one) that our Conſtituents, already labouring under heavy Debts, be not burthened with freſh Impoſitions on that Account; and therefore, in Condeſcenſion to the Members, who think another Agent neceſſary, we will concur with them, if they approve of this Propoſal, in paying ſuch Agent at our own Expence.

* The Money here meant, was a Sum granted by Parliament as an Indemnification for part of our Expences in the late War, which by Act of Aſſembly was ordered for the better Security to be placed in the Bank.

† Dr. FOTHERGILL was mentioned by the Remonſtrants as a proper Perſon.

NAPLES, July 24.

FROM the beginning of the epidemical Diſtemper, to the laſt Day of June, it is computed that 572,000 Perſons have died in this Kingdom.

Leghorn, Aug. 18. A Swediſh Veſſel arrived here Yeſterday from Algiers, and has brought home the Conſul, who reſided there on the Part of this Dutchy, in Conſequence of a Declaration of War by the Bey of Algiers againſt the Emperor, Grand Duke of Tuſcany. This Meaſure is ſaid to be occaſioned by a Veſſel under Tuſcan Colours, which was taken by the Algerines, and refuſed on the Repreſentation of our Conſul; but was afterwards found to be a Neapolitan.

Genoa, Aug. 14. Peſt continues to ſtock up its Victims both by Sea and Land. Sickneſs, Scarcity, and Deſolation weaken the Plans daily.

Algiers, Aug. 3. A Genoeſe Polacre, under Engliſh Colours and Paſſport, with 24 Men on board, arrived here a few Days ago to pay Cuſtom. The Dey, informed of the Fraud, immediately ſold the Veſſel and Crew. The Captain of this Genoeſe Polacre, a Greek by Birth, has informed the Dey that there are now at Sea 25 Genoeſe Veſſels, all furniſhed with the Paſſports and Flags of Great-Britain. As many Ships take Advantage alſo of the Colours and Paſſports of Denmark, the Dey, we are aſſured, is on the Point of declaring War againſt the Powers at Sea that uſe them againſt Tuſcany.

LONDON, Auguſt 2.

The infamous Morgan, the Highwayman, has had four narrow Eſcapes for his Life: FIRſt, he had like to have been Burned at the Inn, in Newgate: Secondly, he eſcaped Hanging by receiving his Majeſty's Clemency: Thirdly, he was near Drowning in his Voyage from New-York to Philadelphia: Fourthly and laſtly, he has again eſcaped Hanging, for a Time, by breaking out of Newgate on Tueſday Morning laſt.

A Report is now circulating univerſally (a Correſpondent informs us) in Dublin, at the Expence of a Nobleman on a little Remarkable for the Delicacy of his Diſpoſition. Sitting one Day, about Noon, in the Lodgings of Miſs [illegible], the young Woman who has laſt Summer at Mr. [illegible], and ſtarring the Street-Door open, the Lodger, without ſo much as knocking at the Chamber, who had not yet ariſen, and began to rail moſt ſmartly for being ſo long in Bed. Miſs Cooke, who was then over, in good Part, and at laſt ſtruck up Lord [illegible] Jig down to her Maid, and bid her to make all poſſible Expedition with a Duck which was roaſting for her Breakfaſt. His Lordſhip good-naturedly complied, but had no ſooner delivered his Meſſage, than the Maid, taking the Advantage of his Abſence, begged he would take the Duck for both of them. His Lordſhip, willing to oblige the Miſtreſs, about an Affair of the greateſt Importance; My Lord even conſented to this, and the Baggage of a Maid, having long entertained a Deſire of ſuperfeeding her, ran inſtantly to a neighbouring Coffee-Houſe, frequented by ſome Gentlemen of his acquaintance, to whom ſhe gave Orders to be informed of the Circumſtance, and juſt about to the Houſe where they found this illuſtrious Perſonage buſtling a Spring about (in which, for want of a Cork the Duck had been ſaſtened) like the unfortunate Dick Wortley, in Murphy's Farce of the Citizen. The Affair being thus diſcloſed, a Print was ſpeedily publiſhed, repreſenting the Kitchen Stairs, which has occaſioned the Right Hon. Gentleman ſo much Chagrin, that he intends to retire immediately from Town, to avoid the Laugh and Raillery of the Public.

Extract of a Letter from Petersburgh, July 1.

"The Garriſon here, ſince the fatal Cataſtrophe of Prince Ivan, is more quiet than could poſſibly be expected. The Nobility obſerve a profound Silence, but the Murmurs among the People are conſiderable and increaſe daily, ſo that if the Empreſs does not return ſoon to impoſe Silence on the Malcontents by her Preſence, it is to be feared that ſome Diſorders may enſue. The Siberaller Peaſts has already depoſited ſucceſſively fifteen Couriers to Riga, to inform him of the preſent Majeſty of what has happened ſince the Fate of the young Prince. That Prince was kept in the Caſtle of Schluſſelburg, under the Denomination of a Perſon unknown, and it was given out that his Senſes were much impaired; but it is pretty well known that this was without Foundation. The Poor has been particularly lamentable. His wretched Fate from the Hands of his Parents in the Revolution of 1740, when he was but a Year old; and has guarded Greek-and twenty Years of a close Captivity. The late Empress Elizabeth, towards the latter End of her Life, seemed disposed to treat this noble Captive with Clemency and Favour, either from Sentiments of Justice and Compassion, or with a Design to render two great Personages circumspect and submissive. But now his Troubles are all concluded, and what still he the Consequence of his Fate, is neither known, nor can be easily conjectured."

Aug. 22. The Right Hon. Mr. Legge, being told by a Noble Friend, within a Day or two of his Death, that he seemed much better, answered with great Vivacity and Spirit, "Oh, no, all over with me; I am going, as fast as "possible, to join the Majority."

Aug. 30. Yesterday died, aged near 80, that great and worthy Patriot, Sir John Barnard, Knt.

September 4. By the French Mail there is Advice, that two Houses at Havre, three at Dunkirk, two at Rochelle, one at Bologne, and one at St. Valery, from whence most of the English and Scotch Smugglers have heretofore been furnished with the Manufactures and Goods of that Kingdom, were finally shut up in the Month of August last. It is added, that the late Dispositions to prevent Smuggling in the Isle of Man, put the last Hand to their Dissolution.

A Piece of Scotch Cambric, fabricated in Glasgow, has lately been brought to Town to be laid before the Society for the Encouragement of Arts, and it is thought by good Judges to be equal to the finest of that Manufacture ever imported from a neighbouring Kingdom.
